Common Module on Unmanned Aerial Systems (UASs) 2024
at Hellenic Air Force Academy (HAFA)

The Hellenic Air Force Academy has the honor to organize from Monday 15th until Friday 19th of March 2024, the Common Module on Unmanned Aerial Systems (UASs), under the auspices of European Security and Defence College (ESDC).

The seminar will include lectures on the basic principles of technologies supported by Unmanned Aerial Systems (UAS) and their applications, specifications and classification of different categories, types and sensors of UASs used for civilian and military applications as well as the different perspectives on the integration of UAS into Common European Security and Defense Policy missions.

In the Common Module will teach professors / speakers from the Hellenic Air Force Academy, Hellenic Civilian Universities and Basic Officer Education Institutions of the EU.

More information and the application for participation in the seminar are provided at the following links.

http://www.emilyo.eu/node/878